

The Hawley Company, Inc.

December 1, 2009

For the past two years I have been with the Hawley Company we have offered the Citytech and Sprintech with great success. The Mirrors easy to install and need no further part which makes them hassle free. They are sold in good packaging that shows the quality of the product. Lastly with the growing number of people on the streets in both bike's and cars, it is an inexpensive way to stay safe.

The growing sales of these products tell us that our customers love them and sell them to there customers.

George Faulkner

